WPC Energy Young Professionals Committee (YPC)

The Young Professionals Committee (YPC) brings together a global community of young professionals, emerging energy leaders and students who are passionate about shaping the future of energy. Drawing on a diverse range of backgrounds, experiences and disciplines, the Committee contributes fresh perspectives to WPC Energy and helps address the technical, social, environmental and leadership challenges facing the energy sector.

Through its wide-ranging activities, the YPC provides opportunities for collaboration, networking, professional development and knowledge exchange. Working closely with the WPC Energy Secretariat and Congress host countries, the Committee delivers the Young Professionals Programme at the WPC Energy Congress and plays a central role in the organisation of the WPC Energy Youth Forum, helping to empower and connect the next generation of energy leaders worldwide.
